MTS Work Session with Fairbanks

This interactive session is intended to support the transition of the Medicaid to Schools (MTS) program to the Certified Public Expenditures (CPE) methodology and highlight the value of the transition. This session will also provide clarification of the roles and responsibilities between school districts, third-party billing vendors, and Fairbanks. A key focus of the workshop will be outlining the overall program roadmap, including quarterly and annual deadlines, important milestones, and the Fairbanks communication strategy across stakeholders. In addition, participants will receive hands-on support navigating the Fairbanks system, with dedicated time for working through the Participant List process ahead of the June 5 Participant List deadline. Fairbanks will also be available to answer questions and provide direct support as districts prepare for submission.

JSI | Medicaid to Schools Support Center

This 90-minute interactive session intends to support the implementation of quality improvement activities among schools participating in the Medicaid to Schools Program. To begin, session participants will work together in large and small groups to identify and understand the root causes of current documentation challenges affecting their school's ability to recover the costs of school-based health services. Following this exercise, participants can reflect and identify action-oriented next steps to mitigate these underlying challenges in day-to-day operations.
