The role of athletic administrators involve providing leadership to an education-based athletic program while overseeing the day-to-day operations required for its success. They set professional standards based on strong philosophical foundations and a commitment to ongoing professional development. This session will explore the many responsibilities athletic administrators undertake, offering insights on how to best support them as they manage everything from event planning to navigating legal matters. While athletics remains the core focus of the role, a well-rounded knowledge across various fields is essential to effectively fulfilling the position.
